Reception.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Damon gave a reception last Tuesday at their residence on Nuuanu Avenue in honor of Mr. Frank Damon and his bride, who have just arrived from China. The party was a remarkably successful and pleasant one. His Majesty the King, H. R. H. Princess Liliuokalani, His Ex. Governor Dominis, Hon. A. S. Cleghern, His Ex. W. M. Gibson, His Ex. C. T Gulick were present, along with nearly everyone who is known in society in Honolulu. The grounds in front of the house were illuminated with much taste and skill and the large lanai erected for the occasion was lighted and decorated in a strikingly handsome manner.

Visit of Japanese Officers to Public Institutions.

Last Thursday the President of the Board of Education and Governor Dominis, accompanied Captain Aridji and two of his officers to visit the Public Schools. Their first visit was to Puakaina, Miss Corney's school. Miss Corney presented a variety of interesting exercises to the Japanese visitors. Next they visited the Royal School. They were received by Rev. A. Macintosh, principal, and Miss Moore, vice-principal. The evidences of good instruction and training in the several grades of the school were very gratifying. Miss Brickwood's class in calisthenics gave some interesting exercises. Afterwards Fort Street School was visited, where the visitors were received by Professor Scott and Mrs. Hendry, and Miss Kennedy. Some time was spent here, the exercises affording great gratification, especially in the case of a Japanese girl named Oito, whose talent and proficiency excited extreme interest on the part of her countrymen. By request of Professor Scott, Mr. Gibson made a short address to the assembled classes. Among other remarks, he said that during his official experience there had been a great many visits of men-of-war at this port, but he could not recall to mind a single instance when commanders or officers of English, French, American, Italian, German, or Swedish vessels had preferred a request to be allowed to visit our | By-Laws Lodge Le Progress of F. and A schools; but since the arrival of the Japanese ship-of-war, her commander and some of her officers had expressed the most lively interest in the condition and character of education in this country. They were now making a tour to observe for themselves; and he was happy to be assured by these gentlemen of the great gratification they felt in noting evidences of perfect discipline, order, and good instruction. It was plain to be seen that they had excellent teachers, and that they were doing their best to profit by excellent instruction. He hoped that Japan would send many more such bright girls as the one who had had given such an interesting display of her talents. At Fort street, started in Makiki Valley, at a point where | as at the Royal School, the singing of the pupils was admirable, evidently the result of excellent vocal instruction.

> After their visit to the schools, the Japanese officers accompanied by Governor Dominis, inspected the Oahu Gaol and the Military Barracks.

Introduced to the Police.

Deputy-Marshal Dayton, accompanied by his principal officers-Fehlbehr, Marcos, Crabbe, . McKeague, Mehrtens, Tell, Wond, Kauhane, and Kahimoku-called upon the new Marshal, J. H. Soper, at his office in the Government building, at 2 o'clock P.M., last Wednesday for the purpose of paying their respect to him.

Deputy-Marshal Dayton introduced his associates to the new Marshal, and said that he would find them all competent men, who could be reasonably continued in office to the benefit of the community.

Marshal Soper said that the police force, in order to be efficient, must be ever watchful and understand their duties thoroughly. After a desultory conversation, which was engaged in generally by the parties assembled, Mr. Dayton, the Deputy Marshal, addressed the retiring Marshal Parke, thanking him, in behalf of the police force, for his uniform kindness to them when it did He intimated that in a few days the police towards him by a substantial testimonial.

Mr. Parke was much affected at this evidence of their friendship, and in a few words thanked them for their kindly feeling towards him, He did not doubt but that his successor would be equally as satisfactory to them as he had bee i. This ended

Another Old Citizen Gone.

We again chronicle with regret the death of one of our oldest and most esteemed residents in the person of Mr. Henry May, who has been a resident of this place since March 1855. He has been confined to his bed for about two weeks past with malarial fever, and expired Wednesday morning about half past 9 o'clock. Deceased was born in Newark, England, January 17th, 1826, and first came to these Islands in the year 1855, when, in connection with Mr. S. Savidge, he opened the first real grocery store in Honolulu. Subsequently, returning to England, he remained there about twelve years, when ho was again found here engaged in the grocery business in his own name. During the year 1877 he took his nephew, Mr. T. May, into partnership with him under the firm name not interfere with the discipline of the force. of Henry May & Co., of which firm he continued an active member until his death. would give evidence of their feelings The deceased was a trustee of the Queen's Hospital, a member of the Chamber of Commerce and of the British Club. The Government building, the Banking house of Bishop & Co., and all the principal places of business, were closed at noon that day out of respect to his memory. He will be missed by the members of the Anglican Church, to which he has long been attached as one of its most active and valued members. His private life was beyond a blemish, and he was noted for his benevolent acts. The funeral will take place at the Anglican

A Funeral Ceremony.

The funeral services of Mr. Henry May took place at the St. Andrew's Cathedral Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Bishop Willis, assisted by Rector Wallace, officiated. When the services were concluded the funeral cortege proceeded to the cemetery on Nuuanu street. The pall bearers were the Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, the Hon. C. R. Bishop, Col. W. F. Allen, A. T. Atkinson, P. C. Jones, Jr., Theo. H. Davies, Sam Savidge and J. T. Waterhouse, Jr. Governor Dominis, with that appropriate perception which always so distinguishes him, ordered the Royal Hawaiian Band to the cemetery, and stationed some distance from the place of interment, on the sightapproach of the funeral cortege, it played from that time till the final interment music known as the "English Funeral March," "Kamehameha" (Hawaiian funeral march). and the "Sweet Bye-and-Bye." There was a large concourse of our most prominent citizens present at the burial, and the services at the cathedral was attended by a larger crowd of people than the edifice would contain.

A Dark Transaction.

Mr. James O'Brien, the Superintendent of the Hawaiian Stone Company, had occasion Virgin, Capt. C. A .- Erdumfegelind der | to visit this city a few days ago on business. Konigl, Schwedischen Frigate Eugenie, On his return to the company's premises at Waimanalo he ascertained that a silver Byron, Capt. the Right Hon. Lord-Voy- watch and a small amount of silver of his was missing, and that several of his workmen had also met with similar losses. The absence of a colored man named Frank Copeland, who had been employed on the premises, caused a suspicion that he was the larcener. A continued absence of the colored individual confirmed the suspiciou. Copeland is well known in this city. It is said that at one time he was horse trainer for His Majesty the King. He was at one time "luna" over the Portuguese laborers at the Pahala Plantation, and it is reported that he was the Hon. C. R. Bishop's coachman for a number of years. If he is not speedily caught it will be because he is laying too low for our policemen.

More Enterprise.

The Honolulu Iron works has just finished a smoke stack which will appear like an inverted funnel, when placed, for the lime kiln of the Hawaiian Stone Co., which is situated on James Campbell's premises at Waimanalo. The cone shape of the stack is ten feet high and ten feet in diameter at the base. The balance of the stack is thirty feet high. It was shipped to its destination by one of the large schooners of the Pacific Navigation Company. Mr. James O'Brien, the Superintendent of the works, is now in town attending to matters connected with it. He expects that when he gets that new monument to his enterprise placed where it belongs that he will be able to furnish a superior article of home-made lime. The success of the enterprise is much to be desired.
